english abstract in our life everybody asks himself who am i the answers to that question generate everyone's self perception which will be always part of one's identity the latter is one of the major themes appealing in leslie marmon silko's ceremony and this seminar paper will focus on the two characters tayo and rocky they show the problems occurring for persons that are caught between two worlds tayo feels ashamed of himself because of his white ancestry his cousin rocky on the other hand is a full blood indian but does everything to be a part of the white world both are somehow caught in the middle because of living in between the first part of the paper will focus on demonstrating the development of these two major characters in ceremony it is an important section because in essence the individual's actions and character define his identity jenlink townes 2009 127 therefore to analyze tayo's and rocky's identity or search for it one has to examine their life career and relations with other persons because a person's identity is also influenced by others' recognition of that identity jenlink townes 2009 127 this seminar paper will also focus on the similarities and distinctions between the two mentioned characters and the topic identity including the associated term hybridity for example the reasons for the accurate analysis of tayo's and rocky's characteristics by comparison are their different philosophy of life and searching for identity living in a reservation unfolds a unique way of life which differs from the lifestyle of the white's therefore it creates further hurdles for tayo and rocky but this search for identity is a social as well as an individual problem the kind of answers one gives to the question who am i depends in part upon how one answers the question what is this society and this world in which we live lynn 1999 14 one has to be able to define his position in the world this is why this topic also represents a problem of today's people there are still humans that are caught between two worlds because they are of mixed descent and were unsuccessful in the search for the sense of belonging the reasons are sometimes the same like 50 years ago

Storytelling in Leslie Marmon Silko's Ceremony 1991 essay from the year 2011 in the subject english literature works grade 1 5 university of stuttgart language english abstract leslie marmon silko a native american writer grew up at the edge of the laguna pueblo reservation new mexico usa because of her mixed origins and for the fact that she was not living directly in the reservation and thereby in the pueblo society she was not allowed to attend several rituals silko's roots are native american anglo american and mexican american but she was raised and educated by her grandmother and aunts with the traditional laguna stories this led to a strong identification of her with the native part of her ancestry and to her writing which always deals with native american topics her writing includes autobiographical parts and lots of relations to tradition which only a member of this particular native tribe could describe as precisely as she does in ceremony her highly regarded 1977 novel these traditional relations seem to play an important role the following essay will show how the importance of tradition for the native american communities is expressed in the novel and how it is responsible for the healing of the main protagonist's illness

Tradition and Renewal in Leslie Marmon Silko's "Ceremony" 2007 seminar paper from the year 2004 in the subject english language and literature studies literature grade 2 3 university of heidelberg language english abstract leslie marmon silko s novel ceremony is not only about native american culture it is also about the environment and how different ethnical groups deal with it even though they do not intervene in the story s course animals except the cattle tayo has to find plants and last but not least the land as a term for all more or less dead things in nature like stones e g play a crucial role in this piece of fiction this essay will take a look at the novel from an environmentalist perspective in order to show how nature is treated here by the humans and which effects are caused by this it will also examine how this plays a role in tayo s personal fate in the case of ceremony environmentalism is also humanism aboriginal peoples are very often connected with their land and everything in and on it in a way which is quite different from the european u s american way of living every harm done to their land hurts them very much this is also shown in silko s novel and therefore will be taken as a theme in this essay in a native american culture as the laguna pueblo s reality dream and belief often become mixed therefore it will sometimes be necessary here to go beyond the actual events and get involved in what could be called religion even though the focus will mostly be on what really happens speaking in western terms what is meant here are mainly the stories which are scattered throughout the book these stories represent traditional laguna beliefs the stories themselves reproduced in silko s literary modification and offer a view on nature that is based on harmony and a peaceful living together but first this essay will deal with the bad things committed towards the environment because this way the contrast to the positive actions and interactions with nature that form the second part will be as sharp as it should be seen as a last part will serve what can be considered the environmentalist boiling point of the book the part in which the native american ecocatastrophe is lifted on a global level
