The Elements of the Thirty-six Dramatic Situations

the original 36 dramatic situations was written in in french by georges polti in the 1850s polti synthesised all drama as belonging to combinations of 36 situations in the book he illustrates each situation with examples from classical and french theatre when mike figgis used the book as an aid in putting together a treatment for a film he found that his landscape of creativity had altered quite radically and ideas came forth with relative ease he realised that polti s book was system of reference which could be a powerful tool for writers so he began updating all of the references moving the focus away from theatre and focussing primarily on cinema in the first half each dramatic situation is laid out under the 36 headings the specific situation is then explained more fully followed by an example from a specific film accompanied by an explanation of how the device is used in the film in the second half of the book there are a series of charts which analyse 150 great films of all genres based on the 36 situations
